Troy Waller
CoPilot & Modern Workplace Practice Lead, ASI

With over 25 years in the education sector and a rich background as a Microsoft Cloud Solution Architect, I'm passionate about helping organisations and their people thrive through change. My journey has taken me from classrooms to boardrooms, guiding schools, universities, banks and government departments to embrace AI and modern technologies in ways that deliver real, measurable value.

I specialise in adoption and change management, stakeholder engagement, and hands-on coaching – always with a focus on practical outcomes. For the last three years, I've dedicated myself to GenAI adoption, designing and delivering tailored programs that accelerate AI uptake and boost employee engagement across diverse industries. My approach is grounded in partnership: I work closely with schools to understand their unique challenges and opportunities, ensuring every program is fit-for-purpose and delivers lasting impact.
