Phil Butler

Not for Profit Lead, Australian Institute of Company Directors (AICD)

Phil Butler is the Not for Profit Lead at the Australian Institute of Company Directors. In this role, he works closely with boards and executives across the sector, and has helped develop a range of governance resources including the Good Governance Principles and Guidance for NFP Organisations and the annual NFP Governance and Performance Study.

With broad experience across NFP and Public Sector boards, Phil also hosts the AICD podcast Boards with Purpose, focused on governance insights and leadership across the not for profit sector.
