GUEST SPEAKER

Simon Murphy

Principal, Blackheath & Thornburgh College

Simon Murphy has more than 20 years of experience in education across rural state and independent schools. Since 2020, he has served as Principal of Blackheath & Thornburgh College, where he is committed to providing high-quality educational opportunities for students from regional and remote communities.

Passionate about rural education, Simon is dedicated to ensuring that geography is never a barrier to achievement. He believes in fostering strong school communities, developing confident young people, and creating learning environments that enable every student to thrive.
