GUEST SPEAKER

Angelin Achari

School Services Advisor – International Education, Independent Schools Queensland (ISQ)

Angelin has over 20 years of experience in both the private and public sectors across Australia and New Zealand, specialising in international education, school business operations, risk management, and regulatory compliance. Her diverse background in Health, Housing, and Education provides her with a deep understanding of government policy, organisational development, operational management, human resources, and compliance.

At ISQ, Angelin advocates for independent schools at sector, industry, and ministerial levels. She supports member schools in achieving their international education goals, conducts operational reviews, provides regulatory advice, and delivers professional development in key areas.

Angelin holds degrees with majors in Commercial Law, Economics, and Industrial Relations, along with Postgraduate Diplomas in Human Resource Management, Social Housing Management and Government Policy. She also holds a Master of Management.
