Alex Galland
AsiaPac Digital Transformation Advisor, Google for Education

Alex brings 30 years of teaching and pedagogical leadership to the educational landscape, with the majority of her experience gained in independent schools across NSW and the ACT.

Currently, Alex contributes her wealth of experience to the Asia Pacific Google for Education team in her role as Digital Transformation Advisor, working with a variety of education bodies in the region to drive impact through the use of technology and AI. She also serves as an International Baccalaureate (IB) consultant, school evaluator and workshop leader, and a national assessor for Highly Accomplished and Lead Teacher certification.
